

Risk Title		Threat		Consequences		Treatment plan
Employees using free AI tools for corporate communications		Employees may enter confidential company information into free AI tools that retain prompts and data for model improvement or processing.		Sensitive business information, customer records or intellectual property may be exposed to unauthorized parties, resulting in reputational damage, compliance violations, and financial losses.		Implement an AI usage policy, provide employee with awareness training, and require the use of approved enterprise AI platforms with contractual data protection agreement and security controls.	